Cyber Safety.

In our increasingly digital world, understanding cyber security is crucial. Below, are some essential tips to protect yourself from common threats like phishing scams, identity theft, data breaches, and malware attacks.

Cyber Safety Tips

Enable Two-Factor Authentication (2FA)

Enable 2FA on your accounts whenever possible. This adds an extra layer of security by requiring a second form of verification.

Be Cautious of Phishing Scams

Do not click on links or download attachments from unknown or suspicious emails. Always verify the sender's email address and be cautious of unexpected requests for personal information.

Keep Software Up to Date

Regularly update your operating system, browser, and other software to protect against security vulnerabilities.

Use Secure Networks

Avoid using public Wi-Fi for sensitive transactions. If you must use public Wi-Fi, use a Virtual Private Network (VPN) to encrypt your internet connection.

Protect Personal Information

Be cautious about sharing information, including on social media. Adjust privacy settings on your social media to control who can see your posts and personal details.

Backup Your Data

Regularly back up your important data to an external hard drive or cloud storage service.

Use Antivirus and Anti-Malware Software

Install and maintain reputable antivirus and anti-malware software to protect your devices from threats.

Monitor Your Accounts

Regularly check your online accounts for any unauthorised activity.

Resources

Assessment Information.

Your Results

During your studies, you'll be given results for your assessments. Below is information on the types of results you may receive and what they mean.

Competent (C)

To receive this result, you'll have met all the criteria for the unit and demonstrated the required skills and knowledge.

Not Yet Competent (NYC)

This result means that:

- Your evidence was incomplete.
- The evidence did not meet the required standard.
- The evidence was not your own work (plagiarism or copying is not allowed and can lead to serious consequences).

If you receive an NYC result, your trainer/assessor can help you create an action plan to guide you in meeting the essential requirements to achieve competency.

Not Yet Started (NYS)

The unit has not yet been started/attempted according to evidence collected by h&h.

Continuing Activity (CA)

This result can mean either:

- You have started the unit and deemed in-progress, or
- You have been marked Satisfactory in the theory component of the unit, however practical components (achieved during work placement hours) are yet to be assessed for competency.

Credit Transfer (CT)

The recognition of previously completing a unit that is equivalent to a unit you are enrolled in. Formal evidence and verification by h&h is required before achieving this recognition. Once recognised, you'll not be required to repeat training or assessment for that unit.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

The assessment of your current skills and knowledge that you have acquired through previous training, work or life experiences, which are relevant to the requirements of your course. Extensive evidence is supplied for the trainer/assessor to review against the unit requirements and assess the sufficiency of the evidence to be approved for RPL.

Assessment Methods

Throughout your studies, your Trainer/Assessor will use a variety of assessment methods to ensure we collect sufficient evidence to demonstrate your competency. These methods help us evaluate your skills and knowledge in different ways.

Assessment Methods Used

Assessment methods used at h&h can include, but are not limited to:

- Written questions and answers
- Roleplay Presentation
- Workplace observation
- Assessment tasks i.e. report writing, case study and questions, group activity/excursion, third-party report etc

Return of Assessments

It is important for you to keep a copy of all assessments that you submit to h&h. While we take great care in managing and keeping records of your work, h&h is not responsible for any lost or damaged assessments.

h&h Quality Standards

At h&h, we pride ourselves on delivering high standards of education to enhance your knowledge and skills in the industry.

Our courses are designed around competency-based assessment methods, meaning you are required to meet industry standards across both theory and practical components for each unit. You must achieve a 100% result to be deemed competent.

This approach ensures that you are job-ready and confident in your abilities, contributing to high standards in your chosen industry.

Additional Research and Paraphrasing

You will have access to a learner guide for each unit or assessment you complete with h&h. We strongly encourage you to conduct additional research through a variety of sources as required. Please be mindful of the sources you use and consider their reputation. For your research, we suggest referring to government websites and industry-specific sites (which you can obtain from your Trainer/Assessor). Ensure that the information is relevant to Australia, and specifically to New South Wales.

Once you have conducted your research, it is important to demonstrate your understanding of the material. Instead of copying and pasting information into your assessment responses, please paraphrase it in your own words.

Need more assistance with paraphrasing? Please click here for a tutorial.

Use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) tools

We recognise that while AI tools are helpful for brainstorming, grammar, and phrasing, they should not replace your original work. Below are our guidelines for using AI tools.

Maintaining Academic Integrity

Ensure that your assessments reflect your own analyses and conclusions. If AI tools assist in generating content, acknowledge their use in your assessment. This transparency helps maintain academic integrity.

Plagiarism

Directly copying and pasting AI-generated content is considered plagiarism. Excessive plagiarism or evident reliance on AI that shows a lack of engagement with the coursework may result in a Not Yet Competent (NYC) result.

Responsible Use of AI

Do not use AI to fabricate data or generate entire sections of your assessment. Misusing AI undermines your learning process and the quality of your education.

This is a vital part of your qualification, helping you apply your theoretical knowledge in a real-life workplace environment. Disability Support students will be required to obtain one prior to work placement.

First Aid Certification:

Complete a valid First Aid course. If this is not part of your course, h&h offers the unit of competency as a standalone. Speak with your coordinator for further information.

Memorandum of Understanding (MoU):

Fill out and return this form. Work experience cannot start until the MoU is processed, which may take up to 14 days.

Medical Conditions:

Inform your Trainer of any medical conditions that may affect your work experience.

Once the applicable requirements above are met, h&h staff will confirm your placement with your chosen organisation and send them the necessary insurance paperwork.

What is expected of you

While completing your work experience, we recommend following these guidelines:

Complete Your Work Experience Booklet

Bring your booklet daily, and have it signed by both the organisation supervisor and your Trainer/Assessor (when they visit).

Wear Your Name Badge

This will be provided before starting your work placement, wear it at all times during your placement.

Follow the Dress Code

The dress code specified in your work experience booklet must be followed for a professional appearance.

Report Absences

If you are sick, obtain a doctor's certificate and notify your Trainer/Assessor and Coordinator as soon as possible. You will need to make up any missed days.

Discuss Concerns

Address any issues or concerns with your Trainer/Assessor immediately.

Your Trainer/Assessor will visit you onsite during your work experience to offer support and assess your progress.

Checks for your work experience.

National Disability Insurance Scheme Workers Check (NDISWC)

Prior to commencing your work placement, where you will be delivering support or services in the disability and/or aged care industry, you will be required to obtain a National Disability Insurance Scheme Workers Check (NDISWC).

We suggest applying for an NDISWC upon commencing Section 2 of your qualification, after deciding on your work placement organisation, as the approval process can take several weeks.

There are two types of checks:

- Workers: If you are working in the industry, you may need to apply for the Workers NDISWC, which costs $105.
- Volunteers: This check is suitable for your work placement and is free.

How to apply

To apply for an NDISWC, click here.

You will be required to visit a Service NSW Centre closest to you, to complete the second half of the application process, as your identification documents will need to be verified.

Once you receive your check, please forward it to your Trainer/Assessor or Coordinator. Please note that the check is valid for 5 years.

Working with Children's Check (WWCC)

To complete the work placement requirements for your course, you will be required to obtain a Working with Children Check (WWCC). A WWCC is mandatory for anyone who works or volunteers in child-related roles in NSW.

We suggest applying for a WWCC upon commencing Section 1 of your qualification, as the approval process can take several weeks.

There are two types of checks: Workers and Volunteers.

Although the Volunteer WWCC is free, we recommend applying for the Workers WWCC, which costs $105, if you plan to commence employment in a child-related industry. However, the Volunteer Check will be suitable for your work placement.

How to apply

To apply for a WWCC, click here.

You will need to visit a Service NSW Centre closest to you to complete the second half of the application process, as your identification documents will need to be verified.

Once you receive your check, please forward it to your Trainer/Assessor or Coordinator. Please note that the check is valid for 5 years. Additionally, note that other Australian states and territories may have their own requirements, and your NSW WWCC might not apply elsewhere.

National Police Check (NPC)

Before starting your work placement and delivering support or services in the aged care industry, you may need a National Police Check (NPC).

This check summarises your offender history in Australia by collecting data from all Australian police services.

We suggest applying for an NPC approximately two months before commencing your work placement. Some placement organisations may require a 'current' NPC and will not accept checks older than 6 weeks.

The cost of an NPC may vary depending on the organisation or site through which you process your application. We recommend applying through the Service NSW website, with costs starting from $55.80. Please note that if your application requires fingerprinting, the costs may increase to $211.10.

How to apply

To apply for an NPC, click here.

Upon receiving your NPC, please forward it to your Trainer/Assessor or Coordinator. Although an NPC does not have an official validity period, organisations may request an updated check if the date of your current check does not comply with their internal policies. An individual's offender history may have changed during that period.

Support and Assistance

If you have any questions or need assistance with your work experience placement, your Trainer/Assessor and Coordinator are available to provide guidance and support. They can help you with any issues you may encounter during your placement and ensure you meet all the requirements for your qualification.

Complaints and Appeals.

What is this?

At h&h, we are committed to meeting the diverse needs of our students and fostering a welcoming and inclusive environment focused on academic excellence and engagement. While we strive to fulfil every requirement, there may be instances where concerns arise.

Any inappropriate behaviour towards our staff is unacceptable and may lead to removal from class, suspension, or, in serious cases, cancellation of enrolment.

Please note: All complaints and appeals are handled with the utmost confidentiality, adhering to privacy laws and confidentiality agreements at all times.

For more details on the policies governing our Code of Conduct, please refer to the 'Legislations and Policies' section.

Aims

We provide a clear and accessible complaints and resolution process to ensure that:

- The rights of both h&h and the student are protected when a complaint is submitted.
- Our processes enable swift and effective resolution of student concerns.
- Resolution procedures follow standardised practices across h&h.
- All complaint procedures comply with government requirements.

When to lodge?

We believe in the quality of our courses and the skills of our Trainers/Assessors, who are attentive to the needs of our students.

However, if you encounter any issues, we encourage you to follow these steps:

Raise your concern with your trainer, assessor, or coordinator.

If the matter is still not resolved, please proceed to the formal complaint procedure.

Processes.

Appealing assessment results

The appeals process is completed using the following steps:

- Discuss the results with the Trainer/Assessor if a student disagrees with the assessment result.
- If this approach does not resolve the issue, the student can request an 'Appeals Against Assessment Results Form'.
- Once completed, this form will be submitted to and actioned by the Manager within 7 days of receipt.
- The student will be notified in writing of the outcome within 5 business days.

Please note that students have 30 days from the date the assessment was deemed NYC (Not Yet Competent) to appeal the assessment result.

This appeal can be submitted on the grounds that the student:

- Was not informed about the assessment process for the course
- The assessment process differed significantly from what the student was told
- The assessment environment adversely affected the student's performance
- Believed that they had demonstrated competency in the assessment(s)

Lodging a formal complaint

Formal Complaint Lodgement Process:

1. Request complaint forms from any h&h staff member.
2. The completed form should be lodged online.
3. The manager who receives the complaint form will immediately organise a meeting with the student, either by phone or in person.
4. Any other parties involved in the complaint (e.g., Admin Staff, Managers, Trainers/Assessors, or Work Experience Personnel) will be contacted for actions noted in the complaint. This will be done by a manager via phone, email, or a meeting on campus.
5. Solutions must be determined within a maximum of 5 business days regarding the complaint/issue, and this will be communicated to all parties.
6. If the student is not satisfied with the outcome received from h&h, they will be provided with the regulatory body's contact information to escalate the complaint. In this instance, the regulator is the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA). Click here for information.

Legislations and Policies.

Equal Opportunity and Diversity Policy

h&h is committed to equal opportunity in education and employment for students and staff. We aim to provide an environment that fosters equity and fairness and recognises, respects, and values the diversity of all students and staff. Our Equal Opportunity and Diversity Policy outlines the responsibilities of the entire h&h community to implement equal opportunity and diversity principles and to refrain from bullying, discrimination, and harassment. It also sets out the consequences of any breach of the policy.

Discrimination of staff, students or visitors attending h&h is prohibited on the basis of the following:

- Gender
- Ethnic origin
- Pregnancy
- Marital status
- Age
- Sexual orientation
- Physical appearance
- Psychological barriers
- Religion

Drugs and Alcohol Policy

h&h prohibits the use or consumption of drugs and alcohol on its premises. Any student found to be affected and/or under the influence of these substances will be asked to leave the premises immediately.

Principles of Access and Equity

We at h&h are committed to:

- Ensuring our courses are accessible to students.
- Not excluding any group, culture, or individual from participating in our courses or attending associated workplaces.
- Providing all students with an equal opportunity to progress through their course and complete their studies.
- Ensuring course material does not contain language, images, or audiovisuals that are potentially derogatory or offensive.
- Seeking feedback from students regarding their level of satisfaction with all aspects of the training received.
- Reviewing our courses and administration procedures to improve and maintain quality and relevance.
- Providing student support services to ensure equal opportunity.

Sexual Harassment Policy

h&h is committed to providing a work and training environment free from sexual harassment or intimidation. Sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature that could make a person feel uncomfortable. All instances of harassment should be reported either in writing or during an organised meeting with our Managing Director. All reports will be handled with upmost respect and confidentiality.

Work Health and Safety (WHS) Act 2011

Consistent with the provisions of the Work Health and Safety Act (WHS) 2011 in New South Wales, h&h is committed to ensuring the health, safety and welfare of all employees, students and visitors. h&h ensures that its workplace protects these people from work-caused injury and ill health by complying with all relevant safety legislation.

To achieve the WHS objectives, h&h commits to the following:

- Striving to prevent accidents and infections through the identification, removal, and control of hazards, as well as the investigation and reporting of all accidents and dangerous incidents.
- Participation in and consultation with employees on safety matters of significance.
- Provision of first aid and emergency procedures.
- Provision of information, training, and supervision as necessary for safety.

A student's duty of care is to advise an h&h staff member of any potential hazards or faulty equipment so that appropriate action can be taken and the issues rectified.

Privacy Amendment (Enhancing Privacy Protection) Act 2012

At h&h, your privacy is important to us. h&h complies with the Australian Privacy Principles, including the Privacy Amendment (Enhancing Privacy Protection) Act 2012, which amends the Privacy Act 1988. Student records are treated as confidential and are kept safely and securely in a lockable cabinet. Students do not have access to other students' files.

Apprenticeship and Traineeship Act 2001

Apprenticeships and traineeships in NSW are administered under the Apprenticeship and Traineeship Act 2001. This Act provides the framework which protects and supports employers and their apprentices and trainees. Qualifications from nationally agreed training packages are identified by the industry as being suitable to be delivered as an apprenticeship or traineeship. They are established in New South Wales using a Vocational Training Order (VTO). The VTO specifies the qualification, length of apprenticeship or traineeship and the probationary period.

VET Quality Framework

It is the responsibility of h&h to create an environment of access and equity and maximise outcomes for its students. h&h must cooperate with the National VET Regulator, i.e. ASQA. h&h has a policy and procedure regarding client complaints and appeals, which is reviewed annually as part of continuous improvement processes. The Managing Director and General Manager of h&h are ultimately responsible for ensuring that h&h complies with standards. This includes the management of all policies and procedures for h&h; liaises with vocational training assessors regarding student information and documentation; is responsible for ensuring all students have an agreement, and are aware of h&h's guarantee regarding completing their training and assessment.

Trainers/Assessors must operate in accordance with all policies and procedures for h&h; ensuring each student has accurate course information. Should a student feel they do not have accurate information regarding their course and obligations, they should seek advice from senior management of h&h.

Discrimination, Harassment & Bullying.

Our Policy

At h&h, we uphold a zero-tolerance policy towards discrimination, harassment, and bullying. We are committed to fostering a respectful and inclusive environment based on honesty, fairness, trust, accountability, and respect.

Our aim is to create a work and study atmosphere where every community member is treated with dignity. We actively educate everyone about the nature and impact of harassment, discrimination, and bullying. Any incidents of such behaviour are met with immediate and decisive action. Our goal is to ensure a safe and supportive environment where each individual feels valued and respected.

Legislation relating to discrimination, harassment and bullying:

- Human Rights & Equal Opportunity Commission Act 1986
- Racial Discrimination Act 1975
- Sex discrimination Act 1984
- Disability Discrimination Act 1992
- Disability Inclusion Act 2014
- Age Discrimination Act 2004
- Work Health & Safety Act 2011
- Workplace Relations Act 1996
- Freedom of Information Act 1982
- Privacy Act 1988
- Crimes Act 1900
- Criminal Code 2002

Information about what to do about discrimination, harassment & bullying:

Silence allows the bully or harasser to continue their intimidation. Each situation is unique. If you, as a student, are being bullied, you might consider taking direct action with the individual, starting with informal steps. However, you MUST report every incident—regardless of its significance—to h&h management for record-keeping purposes.

h&h has a complaint resolution procedure that can be used in these situations (see Complaints). Make a detailed record of what happened, including the location, time, date, those involved, and those present, ensuring the record is accurate. If you experience, or witness, any form of discrimination, harassment, or bullying and feel comfortable and safe addressing the individual(s) involved, make it clear that the behavior is unwanted and unacceptable. If you are uncomfortable approaching the person(s) yourself, you may ask a senior staff member to mediate or facilitate a discussion to find a resolution acceptable to everyone involved.

In some cases, a formal investigation may be required. This will be conducted by our Managing Director, usually following preliminary discussions with h&h. You'll need to submit a written report, and an impartial person (typically the Managing Director) will carry out the formal investigation. A report will be recorded, and you be advised of the outcome.

If an issue remains unresolved or there is a risk of serious or imminent abuse, whether verbal or physical, h&h may request a WHS inspector to attend the workplace. The inspector will take appropriate action under the relevant legislation.

h&h is responsible for investigating complaints, reducing risks, preventing incidents, addressing and documenting issues, and taking appropriate action. Employees, contractors, and students at h&h have a duty to take reasonable care to ensure they do not compromise the health and safety of others. If someone becomes aware that another person's health and safety is at risk, they must report the issue and cannot remain indifferent.

The outcome may involve disciplinary action against an employee, Trainer/Assessor, or student in accordance with relevant legislation. h&h may also implement changes in the workplace to ensure that discrimination, harassment, and bullying are immediately addressed. These changes may include providing counselling to all stakeholders to help them recognise and correct inappropriate behaviour.
